“Our love to keep marines in an aquarium goes beyond many sea frontiers. The living creatures that become available in our trade should be cared for as precious diamonds. The nature where those fish and invertebrates are reproducing, spawning and growing should be cared for with the highest respect. The fisherman (and families) involved in collecting are depending on us. By supporting the Marine Aquarium Council we will make it all possible to have a sustainable hobby that helps to protect reefs, ecosystems and... people.”
